OCTOBER 9, 2022 TWENTY-EIGHTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Entrance Antiphon

Ps 130 (129): 3-4

If you, O Lord, should mark iniquities, Lord, who could stand? But with you is found forgiveness, O God of Israel.

Reading I

2 Kgs 5:14-17

Naaman went down and plunged into the Jordan seven times at the word of Elisha, the man of God. His flesh became again like the flesh of a little child, and he was clean of his leprosy. Naaman returned with his whole retinue to the man of God. On his arrival he stood before Elisha and said, "Now I know that there is no God in all the earth, except in Israel. Please accept a gift from your servant." Elisha replied, "As the LORD lives whom I serve, I will not take it;" and despite Naaman's urging, he still refused. Naaman said: "If you will not accept, please let me, your servant, have two mule-loads of earth, for I will no longer offer holocaust or sacrifice to any other god except to the LORD."

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 98:1, 2-3, 3-4

R. The Lord has revealed to the nations his saving power.

Sing to the LORD a new song, for he has done wondrous deeds; his right hand has won victory for him, his holy arm.

R. The Lord has revealed to the nations his saving power.

The LORD has made his salvation known: in the sight of the nations he has revealed his justice. He has remembered his kindness and his faithfulness toward the house of Israel.

R. The Lord has revealed to the nations his saving power.

All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation by our God. Sing joyfully to the LORD, all you lands: break into song; sing praise.

R. The Lord has revealed to the nations his saving power.

Reading II

2 Tm 2:8-13

Beloved: Remember Jesus Christ, raised from the dead, a descendant of David: such is my gospel, for which I am suffering, even to the point of chains, like a criminal. But the word of God is not chained. Therefore, I bear with everything for the sake of those who are chosen, so that they too may obtain the salvation that is in Christ Jesus, together with eternal glory. This saying is trustworthy: If we have died with him we shall also live with him; if we persevere we shall also reign with him. But if we deny him he will deny us. If we are unfaithful he remains faithful, for he cannot deny himself.

Gospel

Lk 17:11-19

As Jesus continued his journey to Jerusalem, he traveled through Samaria and Galilee. As he was entering a village, ten lepers met him. They stood at a distance from him and raised their voices, saying, "Jesus, Master! Have pity on us!" And when he saw them, he said, "Go show yourselves to the priests." As they were going they were cleansed. And one of them, realizing he had been healed, returned, glorifying God in a loud voice; and he fell at the feet of Jesus and thanked him. He was a Samaritan. Jesus said in reply, "Ten were cleansed, were they not? Where are the other nine? Has none but this foreigner returned to give thanks to God?" Then he said to him, "Stand up and go; your faith has saved you."

A Prayer Before Holy Mass

Heavenly Father: I, your unworthy servant, come to worship You in this Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. By Your grace, kindly help me to listen attentively, pray devoutly, and receive worthily the Sacred Body and Blood of Your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ. May Your Holy Spirit open the eyes of my heart to perceive more fully the great Mystery that takes place on the sacred altar. At this Holy Mass, I wish to pray in particular for the following intentions: (here name them). Amen.

"Has none but this foreigner returned to give thanks to God?" Luke 17:18

Most of us live relatively "easy" lives. We have food, shelter, clothing, and money. We go on vacation every year and own a car or two. Most of us take this all for granted. Do we ever notice that people with the least amount of possessions are usually the most grateful? Shouldn't this be the other way around? Let us take time every day to thank God for all He has given us and to discern how He is calling us to share our gifts.

From St. Vincent de Paul Society

In today's Gospel, we hear that only one of those healed returned to glorify and to give thanks to God. It is true that, when we have a grateful heart, we know that everything is a gift from God. To give thanks for all that God has given to us, have we considered answering the call to help serve the poor by joining the Society? Call the parish office and a member will happily contact you with more information.

Recently, at a Men's Club meeting, I was asked, "Can we expect anything good to come from All Things New?" I think this article by Archbishop Rozanski captures the great hope I and many have flowing from this pastoral initiative. May we be inspirited and challenged by these words as we prepare for the upcoming listening sessions. —Fr. John

The excitement of being witnesses to Jesus

The focus of All Things New is on people, not buildings, and on helping them share our witness more readily

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ, For the past year I've been writing about the All Things New strategic pastoral planning process, with a particular eye on the fact that change is hard. Now, as we begin talking about some concrete scenarios for change, I'd like to focus on what I'm excited about.

More than anything, I'm excited about the possibility of revitalizing our lives as Catholics: 1) People delving more deeply into the riches of the Catholic faith. 2) People not being afraid to share the Gospel. 3) People finding creative ways to meet the needs of their communities.

In short, my focus is on people more than buildings. Every change that we'll make to parishes, schools and organizational structures will have an eye on helping people be more vibrant witnesses to Jesus.

In many ways, we've continued to live out of an organizational model that was built for another time — for an immigrant Church, with growing families and a presupposition that "if we build it they will come." We can say, with gratitude: that organizational structure met the needs of its time! But we have to say, with equal frankness: that organizational model no longer meets our current needs.

It's time for us to start living into a new model — one that's characterized by different demographic trends and a different psychological profile. To live into a new model, we'll need to establish some new habits.

We need to go deeper in our faith life, individually and organizationally. We have a decades-long catechetical deficit to make up, one that impacts both the depth of our spiritual life and the strength of our living of the faith. I think we can help people know the faith and live their faith more deeply. I'm excited to see that!

We need to share our witness more readily: "This is what life was like before. This is how I met Jesus, and the difference He made. This is what life is like now." We've delegated that task to our Protestant brothers and sisters for too long. (And, thanks be to God, they're good at it!) It's time for that to change. I'm excited to see us learn, every one of us, to give our witness as Catholics.

We need to share the Gospel message more freely and skillfully. "Jesus loves you. He lived and died for you. He rose again to show His power over every kind of darkness. Will you let Him into the hard parts of your life?" We frequently and easily share our favorite videos and memes. I think we can just as frequently and easily share the deeper truths of the faith. I'm excited to see what happens when we do!

The Archdiocese of St. Louis — the Rome of the West — has a rich history. But Jesus never allowed anyone to rest on their laurels! He always called people to take the next step. And now He is calling us. We're about to turn the page and begin to write the next chapter of our history. What will it mean to be the Rome of the West in the coming decades? I'm excited to see that. •

We need to share our witness more readily: 'This is what life was like before. This is how I met Jesus, and the difference He made. This is what life is like now.'"

Life Chain Report

The Life Chain linked on Sunday, October 2, from 2:00 to 3:00pm, from Jamieson to the east, along Chippewa. What a beautiful day to witness to the sanctity of Life, to thank God for his goodness and mercy, and to pray for an end to abortion in the United States. Many thanks to the SRAers who attended; our parish had more participants than any other parish/church. May the Lord bless all of us as we strive to build the Culture of Life.

The Virgin of the Poor – Our Lady of Banneux

The apparitions at Banneux, Belgium, appeared between January 15 and March 2, 1933. On January 15, 1933 in Banneux, Belgium, 11-year-old Mariette Beco witnessed the first apparition of the Virgin of the Poor, also known as Our Lady of Banneux. It was the first of 8 apparitions in which Mary revealed herself as the Virgin of the Poor. Her messages included: relief for the suffering of all Nations and fervent prayer. Our Lady has brought incredible hope and healing to those who have asked for her intercession. Please join us at St. Clement of Rome, 1510 Bopp Road, October 16 - 18, to learn more about Our Blessed Mother, the Virgin of the Poor, her hope, healing, and connection to Venerable Fr. Al Schwartz and the Sisters of Mary. Each evening begins at 7:00pm.
